Man Is Drowned On Fishing Trip In Grand River

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A 54-year-old Gary, Ind., man was drowned 5 a.m. Wednesday in Grand River when he fell from a fishing boat after hooking a big fish.

Victim was Emmett Swanson, of 1541 Pennsylvania St., Gary, who had come to Grand Haven with two companions late Tuesday afternoon to fish all night for catfish. The other two men were Marshall Boyd, 53, and Fesser Smith, 40, also of Gary.

The group rented a 14-foot row-boat with outboard motor about 6 p.m. from the boat works north of Grand Haven. When the rain came up late in the evening they went under a tree for shelter and later resumed fishing.

When Swanson hooked a big fish about 5 a.m., he jerked his pole and upset the boat, throwing all three men into the water. One man was able to reach shore and his cries for help were heard about a half mile away by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fricke who operate a boat livery at the end of Pennoyer St. Fricke immediately went out in a boat and picked up one man, but Swanson could not be located.

City police and Conservation Officer Harold Bowditch dragged the river and recovered Swanson's body in a short time. It was taken to Van Zantwick Funeral Home, and was to be removed this afternoon to the Smith Funeral Home in Gary.

Swanson was a member of the Elks lodge and had been employed by the Sheet and Tin Mill of the U.S. Steel Corp. at Gary.

The drowning took place near what is known as Martinique Island near Spring Lake.

Six Holland-Area Scouts To Leave for Jamboree

Six Holland-area boys will leave Grand Rapids at sunrise Saturday on a trip that will eventually turn a huge, deserted ranch in Southern California into a bustling community of almost 50,000 boys.

Destination for the eager sextet is the third National Boy Scout Jamboree which is scheduled for July 17-23 on the vast, historic Irvine ranch near Santa Ana, Calif.

Not long ago, sheep grazed on the 3,000 acres that will comprise the Jamboree's area. But today it's a busy little tent city, putting the finishing touches on a mass invasion by young America.

Also going from Holland will be two scout leaders, Albert A. Walters, 275 West 23rd St., will undertake a long record of 22 years in scouting by making the trip as a Jamboree Scoutmaster. Judson G. Leonard, 148 W. 16th St., who works out of Holland as Field Executive of the Chippewa district, will travel with the Holland-area contingent and he will be a member of a "section" staff at the Jamboree.

Scouts taking the Western jaunt include four from Holland, one from Zeeland, and one from Hamilton. They will all be members of Walters' troop 5 at the Jamboree.

Included in the contingent are Dale Jones, 188 West 19th St., troop 7; Bob Gras, 668 Van Raalte Ave., troop 12; Bob Madison, 209 West 16th St., troop 7; and Roger Hopkins, 158 College Ave., troop 6.

From Zeeland is Lawrence Mulder, 239 Sanford Ct., troop 21. Robert Billett is the representative from Hamilton's troop 33.

Of the group, Jones will be the scribe of Walters' troop while Hopkins, a star scout, will serve as a patrol leader. Billett has reached a high rank of life scout.

Just for the record, the scout camp has been divided into 36 large sections—each to accommodate 34 troops. Each troop will have four patrols of eight scouts each, a senior patrol leader, scribe, quartermaster, and two assistant scoutmasters, and a scoutmaster.

More than 100 Scouts and leaders will go from the Grand Valley Council, of which Holland is a part. Time of departure is listed as 5:30 a.m. Saturday morning and Leonard warned all Scouts that they should be in Grand Rapids before 4:30 a.m. to allow plenty of time for loading baggage.

Not only will it be the first time on a train for many of the boys, but for most of them it will be the first time away from home for such a long stretch—in this case, a three-week period.

The Scouts will go directly to Chicago, where they will board a train for the West and their ultimate destination—the Jamboree. One of the high points along the way will be a stop at Grand Canyon, Colo., where an excursion is all arranged for the Western Michigan group.

Walters said that the boys would be plenty busy on the train despite his admission—"We have been racking our brains on what to do with the kids for three days on the train."

Directed Verdict Absolves Neerken

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Kenneth Neerken of Grandville was absolved of blame in a court suit which opened in Circuit Court this morning after the court issued a directed verdict to that effect.

The case involves Jules Belanger of Holland and the Ohio Farmers Insurance Co. seeking damages from Neerken and Herbert J. Schut of Hudsonville, in connection with an accident last Oct. 13 in which a tow truck operated by Schut towing a car owned by Neerken was involved in an accident with a car driven by Belanger in Hudsonville.

The judge's directed verdict absolves only Neerken from the case, and the case continued after the announcement.

The insurance company filed suit against both defendants seeking $665 and costs, and Belanger in separate litigation sued both defendants for $15,000 and costs.

The accident occurred when the tow truck allegedly made a left turn off M-21 onto School St., driving directly into the path of Belanger's car. Belanger received severe head injuries, a punctured lung and several fractures along with a heart contusion. His 1950 car was demolished.

Leo R. Arnold

Heart Attack Is Fatal for Former Agriculture Agent

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Leo R. Arnold, 65, who had retired June 30 after serving as agricultural agent for Ottawa county since 1934, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at 11 p.m. Wednesday in Municipal Hospital.

Arnold had retired for the night in his home at 218 South Fifth St. and at 10:30 p.m. called to Mrs. Arnold telling her he was ill. A physician was called immediately and ordered Arnold to Municipal Hospital where he was placed under an oxygen tent. He died about five minutes later.

The retired agricultural agent had had a previous heart attack about three years ago but had apparently recovered his health. He and Mrs. Arnold had just returned from spending a week in Newberry with Mrs. Arnold's mother, Mrs. Ethel Hale. He had stopped at the county building Wednesday noon and spent the afternoon playing golf at Spring Lake Country Club of which he was a member. He played on the Bastian Blessing golf team.

Arnold was born on a farm in the Benton Harbor area Oct. 4, 1887, and taught school five years as a young man. After serving overseas during World War I he enrolled in Michigan State College and received a master's degree. He was a poultry specialist for the college in the Upper Peninsula following graduation and later returned to farming in Benton Harbor before coming to Ottawa county in 1934.

He was particularly interested in soil conservation and tree planting and played an active role in organizing the West Ottawa Soil Conservation district in 1938. He served as its secretary since that time. His interest in soil conservation also led to the development of many blueberry farms in the county.

The position of county agent was taken over July 1 by Richard Machiele, formerly of Kent county.

Surviving are the wife, the former Eunice Hale, a school teacher before her marriage in 1929; a daughter, Judy, who will enter college next fall; two brothers, Edward and George of Dayton, Mich., and a sister, Emma Arnold, of Benton Harbor.

The body was taken to Kinkema Funeral Home where services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. with the Rev. Carl Strange of the Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in Lake Forest Cemetery.

Dutchmen Host Watervliet Squad

Holland's Flying Dutchmen will move back into action tonight as they entertain Watervliet in a game slated for Riverview Park at 8 p.m.

Manager Lorin Wenzel plans to start righthander Carl Reimink, who began working out with the Dutchmen only two weeks ago. It will be Reimink's first start of the season. The other possibility for starting hurler is Rog Eggers.

The game with Watervliet was postponed earlier in the season because of rain. The Dutchmen's opponents were rejected in their bid to enter the Southwestern Michigan League because of a late entry, but may be accepted for next year's competition.

Saturday night the Dutchmen will get back into the league battle when they travel to South Haven. A home contest with the Grand Rapids Black Sox is slated for Monday.

Chix See League Action Against Grand Haven

ZEELAND (Special)—Zeeland's Chix have an opportunity to break into the Southwestern Michigan Baseball league lead all alone tonight as they travel to Grand Haven for a conference encounter.

Still tied with the Grand Rapids Black Sox at 3-1, the Chix will have their hands full with Grand Haven, the only league team to decision the Sox.

Friday night, the league tailenders, South Haven, visit the Zeeland Athletic Field. The Chix defeated the Merchants in league competition, but dropped a pair to them last Saturday in a holiday twin bill.

Visscher Survives Junior Class as State Meet Starts

KALAMAZOO (Special) — First-day matches were extremely rough on Holland's sextet of under 18 juniors in the state tournament as boys competition got underway Wednesday afternoon on the Stowe Tennis Stadium courts.

Only Hank Visscher was left in this class as five of the six Holland entries fell before the onslaught of the best junior tennis players in the state.

But Paul Dykema was favored to bring Holland its second under 15 crown in two years. The Southwestern Michigan under 15 champ was awarded a No. 1 seed by Dr. Allen B. Stowe, famed director of the tournament and coach at Kalamazoo College for the past 31 years.

After drawing a bye in the first round, Dykema proceeded to live up to his reputation as he blanked Bill Thrall of Grand Rapids, 6-0, 6-0.

Three out of five Holland under 15 entries survived the first day. Les Overway pounded his way to two decisive victories by whitewashing Bruce Johnson of Battle Creek, 6-0, 6-0, and beating Ken Wigner of Midland, 8-6, 6-1.

Rog Plagenhoef conquered Mike Coddington of Grand Rapids, 6-2, 8-6, in his only match of the day. But Jim Vander Poel was eliminated in his first encounter against Dearborn's Phil Maloney, 6-3, 6-2.

Tom Overbeck took his first match, but was bumped in the second round by No. 2 seeded Jerry Dubie of Hamtramck, 6-0, 6-2. He had beaten Dick Weiss of Kalamazoo, 6-0, 6-1.

Two of Holland's under 13 "mid-geet" quartet were still in the running. No. 3 seeded Jack Damsen byed out the first round and then went into action to shutout Byron Hopman of Muskegon, 6-0, 6-0. Dennis Kuite bounced Kalamazoo's George Brown, 6-2, 6-0.

Jack Hulst fell to flashy little LeRoy Vanderstelt of Muskegon, 6-0, 6-0, while another Muskegon boy, Doug Van Dam, eliminated Ted Fik.

Visscher survived the disastrous under 18 class by conquering Rudy Hernandez of Detroit, 6-2, 6-2, and then coming from behind to clip Kazoo's Cliff Strong, 2-6, 6-3.

Grand Rapids' junior champion, No. 4 seeded Benny Telder of Wyoming Park, eliminated Phil Boersma, 6-2, 6-3, while Sandy Weiner of Grosse Pointe defeated Dave Bosch, 8-6, 6-4. Rich Sharda was bounced by No. 1 seeded Mark Jaffe of Bay City, 6-2, 6-0.

Jim Teerman clipped James Ledinski of Grand Haven, 6-2, 6-0, but was beaten by Lester Doson, 6-3, 6-1. Bill Japling fell to James Smiley of Hamtramck, 6-3, 6-1, after beating Phil Marquardt of St. Joseph, 6-1, 6-2, in the first round.

Nine other Michigan communities besides Holland have sent teams to boost the player rolls to more than 225 boys and girls who are staying in Kalamazoo College dormitories for the tournament. The boys are housed in beautiful Hoban Hall, while the girls have rooms in the Mary Trowbridge House.

More matches were scheduled to get underway at 10 a.m. this morning, an hour later than usual because of soaked courts after Tuesday night's rain.

Action for the girls participating in the tournament will start Thursday. Holland is sending 12 girls to compete along with its 15 boys.

Comedy Opens Tonight At Red Barn Theater

SAUGATUCK (Special)—"The Milky Way," a sparkling three-act comedy by Lynn Root and Harry Clark, will open tonight at 8:30 p.m. in the Red Barn Theater in Douglas after illness of one member of the cast forced the postponement of the scheduled Wednesday night opening for one day.

All cast members in this week's production come from the Kalamazoo Players and the Twin City Players. The role of the milkman who by mistake knocks out the world's middleweight champion in a street fight will be taken by Charles Harkes of Kalamazoo, and the part of the fighter by Robert Weiner, both of the Kalamazoo Players.

The plot develops as the champion's manager, seeing the damage the notoriety will do, conceives the idea of making a fighter of the milk man, and through a series of fixed fights, builds him up as a contender for the champion and a financial asset.

Love interest is provided by the milk man's sister and the champion, and milk man and his own sweetheart. The strength of the love story, the milk man's love of animals and his eccentricities, combined with the explosiveness of the manager, lead to a series of laugh-provoking situations that make an outstanding comedy, strong in sentiment.

James C. Webster, director for the season, again is directing the play. Robert D. Hughes is technical director and Helen Tift in charge of makeup.

Also in the cast are Bruce Mills, Valerie Hilleman, and James Kuis of the Kalamazoo Players and Lolita Weiner of the Twin City Players.

Flying Dutchmen Conquered Twice By Sutherland's

Holland's Flying Dutchmen found Kalamazoo Sutherland's loaded with plenty of 4th of July fireworks Saturday as the strong Kazoo squad routed the Dutchmen twice, 10-3 and 8-4, in a morning-night doubleheader at Riverview Park.

Rog Eggers went the distance in the morning contest allowing 11 hits. Although the hits were fairly well-scattered, walks kept Eggers in constant trouble.

Meanwhile, the Dutch collected only four safeties from Kalamazoo's Hunt. Tony Wentzel's single, Ken Van Wieren's triple and Butts Kool's long fly produced a pair of runs in the fifth, but Sutherland's still led, 4-2, from early-inning tallies.

Kalamazoo broke out with three runs in the sixth, added a single counter in the eighth and socked it away with a home run for Holland in the ninth with no one on base, but that was all the scoring for the Dutchmen.

Willie Rink pitched the second game for Holland, but the Dutchmen still had only four hits in their bats and they just weren't enough.

Holland scored twice in the third on a hit, two walks, and an error, and Clare Van Liere added another pair in the fourth when he singled home Van Dyke and Stan Wlodarczyk.

At this point, the Dutchmen led, 4-2, a lead which they held until the seventh when Kalamazoo tied it up. A single run in the eighth followed by three tallies in the ninth gave the game to Sutherland's.

Ron Jackson hammered a homer with one man in in the ninth to feature the final Kazoo attack.

Rink was extremely wild and uncorried several errant pitches, while the Dutchmen defense kept men on base with errors.

Supervisors Okay Bond Issue for Road Commission

ALLEGAN (Special) — Authorization of a $170,000 bond issue for the county road commission, approval of a $20,000 expenditure for rural road signs and the election of a new member to the county board of social welfare were among the highlights of the closing sessions of the county Board of Supervisors Friday.

With only one dissenting vote, the board authorized the county road commission to issue $170,000 in tax anticipation bonds to help speed up the road repair program. Chalmers Monteith, chairman of the commission, said the extra funds would put the county ahead two years on its road program.

The road commission was also handed the job of erecting road signs designating the rural "streets and avenues" which were established two years ago in a county road map. Under this program, all roads are named, streets running north and south, avenues east and west. A $20,000 appropriation was approved for the project, sponsored by Harold Fox, Wayland supervisor.

Carl Arenhovel, Plainwell paper mill executive, well-known as the owner of the "Home of the Lazy Farmer," between Otsego and Plainwell, was elected to replace Arthur Hart, Allegan banker, on the board of social welfare. Hart resigned earlier this week, giving poor health as his reason. Arenhovel was elected after a caucus of the eastern range of townships nominated him. William Watkins, of Hopkins, and Ernest Wilson, route 2, Allegan.

The board approved a resolution asking the Van Buren county Board of Supervisors to join with Allegan in establishing a district health department. If the Van Buren board is not interested in the plan, the Allegan Health department was directed to prepare a budget for 1954 on an independent basis.

A communication from the social welfare board, pointing out that there had been considerable pressure from the general public for a "more pleasing name" for the county farm and hospital, was referred back to the board without action.

A $1,500 appropriation for construction of a milk house at the county farm was approved and $350 voted for purchase of a photostat machine for the register of deeds office.

Recommendations of the building committee to comply with orders of the state fire marshal were approved by the board. The plan calls for installation of steel roller shelving in the vaults of the probate court, register of deeds and treasurer's offices, installation of two-hour fire doors on the register of deeds and county clerk's vaults and four-hour doors on the clerk's storage vault. The board also ordered the social welfare board to exchange vaults with the county clerk. Cost of the work will exceed $5,900.

The bride's lovely gown of imported chantilly lace over white satin was designed with a basque bodice featuring a yoke of illusion outlined with scalloped lace. The set-in full sleeves tapered to points at the wrists and the full skirt extended into a short train. A Juliet cap of matching lace, trimmed with tiny seed pearls, held her finger tip veil of imported illusion. Her bridal bouquet was made up of Pralaeopsis orchids, white roses and stephanotis with ivy. A single strand of pearls, gift from the groom, completed her ensemble.

Bridal attendants wore identical gowns of white nylon net with strapless bodices and bouffant, tiered skirts. Color accents were the wide bands extending around the top of the bodices and tied in back with large bows and long flowing streamers. The honor attendant's gown was trimmed with pink and the others, blue. All wore white nylon net stoles and small matching headpieces trimmed with daisies. Their bouquets were cascade arrangements of pink and blue California daisies surrounded by pink carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clemons wore a floor-length gown of beige lace and net with dusty pink accessories. The groom's mother chose a gown of powder blue chiffon and lace trimmed with rhinestones, and pink accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

After the ceremony, 150 guests were entertained at a reception at the Detroit Yacht Club.

For their Eastern wedding trip, the new Mrs. Klompars changed to a pink summer suit trimmed with navy blue and navy accessories. She wore the white orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

In the fall, the newlyweds will be at home in Ann Arbor, where Mr. Klompars will continue his studies at the University of Michigan Medical School. He is a graduate of Holland High School and Hope College and has two more years at medical school. Mrs. Klompars, a graduate of Hope College, also studied for a year at Wayne University. She has been teaching in Detroit.

Sentinel Writer Subs for Governor At Michigan Day at Valley Forge

Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. — It was Michigan day here Sunday in historic Valley Forge where George Washington wintered quartered the Continental Army in 1777.

For 30 years each state has had a Sunday in the Memorial chapel, a small gem of Gothic architecture in which religious and patriotic symbols are colorfully blended. So some stained jewel glass windows depict 36 scenes from the life of Washington and others the life of Christ all in red, white and blue colors. In the altar was set the Sheffield silver plate from Washington's coffin.

Outside was a small "Michigan" sign and the state flag to tell tourists which state is being honored.

Two boy ushers, dressed in the blue, red and white uniforms of Washington's day, guarded and carried the national and state flags.

Traditionally it's the Governor who delivers a short address. But this Sunday, Gov. G. Mennen Williams was attending a Governor's conference and asked this correspondent, being only 130 miles away, to represent the state of Michigan.

It was arranged that my remarks from the pulpit would concern my experience as a war correspondent on the Korean battlefield where the spirit of Valley Forge is alive today in the fight for freedom.

The rector paid several tributes to Michigan. He pointed out the Michigan State panel in the roof given by the patriotic societies of the state. The flag was donated by Mrs. John B. Ford. The state bell for the Washington memorial national carillon was given by the Daughters of the American Revolution of Michigan who also provided the state star on the National birthday bell. In past years there have been many patrons, but today only the Governor, Congressman Alvin Bentley and the Michigan DAR are on the roll.

Dr. John Robbins Hart told why and how the memorial chapel came to be.

It seems an old story told by Isaac Potts, George Washington's landlord at Valley Forge, fired the imagination of another rector, the Rev. W. Herbert Burk of Norristown, Penn. The land lord was walking along the bank of Valley Creek and heard a voice, going to investigate, he found Washington on his knees in the snow, praying aloud, his face wet with tears.

So the Pennsylvania minister inspired "a wayside chapel" as a fit memorial where American patriots might kneel.

Every "state" service closes with Washington's prayer for the United States of America.

"WHAT IS TRUTH?"

"What is truth?" said Jesus Pilate, and waited not for an answer.

That's a sentence from one of Bacon's famous essays. A popular radio commentator put it in another form that probably may cause Bacon to turn over in his grave, to say nothing about causing a disturbance among the bones of Pilate himself.

The commentator made a spiri-tized assault upon a freshman at the University of Indiana who, he said, had made the statement that the United States had from time to time broken its treaties with the Indians. The radio man did not deny the fact; he admitted in fact that the boy he was verbally castigating had the dates and the facts at his finger tips.

But even so he should not reveal to the world that our great country had broken faith at any time; it would create the wrong impression in Europe, the commentator declared. His attack on the boy was in reality an attack upon the boy's history teachers.
Colleges and universities should not waste time calling attention to such facts, no matter how authentic they might be.

Anything more unintelligent
than that could hardly be imagined. Again, "What is truth?" and what is truth? For every reasonably well read person knows that what the Indiana freshman said is true. This country has from time to time broken treaties entered into with the Indians. That is no secret in any sense.

There was a time in our history
when most Americans could not bear to have anything unfavorable said about their own country, no matter how true it might be. But that time is long past. It was in a day when we were unsure of ourselves, when we felt we had to pretend that we were always right.

But a nation that is strong can afford to admit that it has human failings in its record. A nation so sure of itself as Russia today feels compelled to rewrite its own history and to pretend that all it has ever done has been right. But that is one of the surest signs of Russian weakness. There is no reason why we should rewrite our history, hiding the mistakes. We are strong enough to face those shortcomings.

In this case the Indiana freshman was much more intelligent than the self-righteous national radio commentator. America can always stand the truth.

Christian Behavior
Romans 12:1, 2; 9-21
By Henry Geerlings

In our study of Galatians, a few weeks ago, two facts were made clear. Our first lesson in that book established the doctrine that Christians are saved by faith, without the deeds of the law. In our second lesson from this book
we learned the twin doctrine that Christian faith is of such a character that it issues in the fulfillment of the law.

In the book of Romans we have the same twin doctrine. Our last week's lesson demonstrated the way of salvation through faith
apart from the law, for all peoples.
The present study describes that life of full consecration on the part of the child of God, which issues in a service of love, a service therefore which fulfills the law.

The apostle Paul by letters, and by his example, challenged Christians to hold their lives available to God, being willing if need be to sacrifice life itself for the gospel. In this he fulfilled the standard of discipleship taught by the Lord who gave His life, and who ammonished His followers not to save but to give their lives, in order to realize life eternal. Our lives have been given to us to be spent, to be invested in the cause of the kingdom of God. Our responsibility is inescapable. We are the stewards of life—its years, its days, its hours, and of each fleeting moment. If not called upon to die a martyr's death, we should,
by all means, live a martyr life.

We are to live transfigured lives. If the inward life is healthy and true and strong it will certainly shape the outward conduct and character. We are not left in doubt as to the power which is to produce the change. It is the work of the Holy Spirit. The change must begin within. We must invoke spiritual influences, power from on high. It will not be denied us if we seek it. We must not begin trying to correct outward habits till we have improved inward grace. We must believe that the Spirit is willing to make His abode in our hearts.

Whatever may be difficulties of the Christian life in the world, they need not discourage us. Whatever may be the work to which we are called, He offers us a strength commensurate with our needs. No one who wishes to serve Christ will ever fail for lack of heavenly aid. And it will be no valid excuse for an ungodly life that it is difficult to keep alive
the flame of piety in the world if Christ is ready to supply the fuel.
Again, if we would lead a Christian life in the world, that life must be continued as well as begun with Christ. We must learn to look to Him not merely as our Savior from guilt, but as the Friend of our secret life, the companion of our solitary hours. We cannot live for Him unless we live much with Him apart from the world. In spiritual as in secular things the deepest and strongest characters need much solitude to form them.

Thoughtfulness and piety are the fruit of habitual meditation and prayer. In these exercises heaven is brought near and our exaggerated estimate of earthly things is corrected. By these our spiritual energies, shattered and worn by the friction of worldly work, are repaired.

When we carry the pattern of Christian behavior from the field of ethics and morals to that of worship, we have the two extreme of ritualism and spontaneous emotionalism. There is a middle ground between these extremes.
We believe in decency and order,
but favor neither disorder nor extreme ritualism. Paul's prayer life studied in this connection is quite original. He suggests that we pray without ceasing. He would not have been in position to observe certain hours punctiliously
as had been done in the temple.
His trust was not in prayer but in God.

He had learned to cultivate a fellowship with the Holy Spirit, because he says that we do not know what we should pray for as we ought. As we ought refers to length and form and time.
What to pray for refers to the subject. It is wonderful when a Christian can grasp all this, keep the fellowship of the Spirit, and pour out his heart for the subjects with which he is burdened—when he awakes at midnight or dawn,
or in the midst of life's busy toils
and journeys.

The last words of this classic on Christian living carry a truth between the lines, where we are counseled to overcome evil with good. We are first not to be overcome, his means the victory life
can be lived by the grace of God,
but it represents the Christian in the negative, or on the defensive.
On the positive side we are to live
an insurgent life against all forms of sin. It also tells that good is stronger than evil. The good will have the last word. Sin has in it its own elements of condemnation.

The Christian ought to live a blameless life. That is what Paul's words imply when he calls for the believer to present his body a living sacrifice when he calls for the believer to present his body a living sacrifice, acceptable unto God. In truth, we should be set apart to the doing of the things that are pleasing to Him. We should demonstrate in everyday living, our hope that is in Christ.
We should translate our creed into life.

The Christian should be Christ-like in his relation to others. The conduct of the believer should be squared at every point by the precepts of Jesus. We may not be able to achieve the perfect standard, but we should strive for it.
The conduct of the believer will have a telling effect upon the conduct of the unbeliever. Many of the standards of the unbelieving

world today are the direct result of Christian influence. This means that if the standards of the Christian are high enough, the standards of the community at large will reflect in an ever-increasing measure the influence of the Christian ethic.

of Shaker Heights, Ohio, and the Karstens.

Visitors were housed in motels
and tourist places in and near Holland and spent a good share of the time boating, water skiing and visiting resort areas. All were particularly impressed with the cleanliness of the city, the many trees and the wholesome atmosphere. Evenings were spent mostly at the Karsten home, hashing
over old times and "fighting World War I all over again."

On Tuesday evening the group attended the Legion Band concert at Kollen Park, and Director Metcalf was asked to conduct the band in one number, "March Fantastique," Fucik.

Members of the group have kept up correspondence and other contacts ever since the war. The first reunion was staged three years ago in Cleveland, Ohio. There were

Ottawa Man Convicted
On Negligence Charge

GRAND HAVEN (Special) —
Albert Molenkamp, 22, route 1, West Olive, was found guilty of a negligent homicide charge at 10 p.m. Tuesday after a Circuit Court jury deliberated 30 minutes.
Molenkamp was charged in connection with a two-car crash in Grand Haven May 17 in which 18-year-old Bette Mae Martin was fatally injured.

The jury rested at 5 p.m., then continued the case in view of the fact that Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith had cases scheduled in Allegan today.
Molenkamp's bond was continued and he will return at a later date for disposition of the case.

It took a special boring machine to drill under the C and O railroad track just east of Zeeland and here's what the operation looks like. Contractors Paas and Paas hired the Summerville Construction Co. of Ada to do the job and the entire job was completed in just one afternoon last week after the machine was set up. The machine accomplished a bevy of operations, boring, winching and scooping out dirt at the same time. A 24-inch casing which will enclose a badly needed 16-inch water line from the new Riley St. wells was laid under the tracks and the entire pipe line is expected to be completed within a week. The workers have already started to cut into the mains and are waiting for the arrival of two new water pumps.

Where Are the Pumps?
Ask Zeeland Officials

ZEELAND (Special)—It should not be too long before more water is gushing into Zeeland's thirsty
mains from the new Riley St.
wells, but city officials were wondering today what had happened to the pumps.

New pumps for two of the four wells were scheduled to arrive by Wednesday of last week, but no one has seen hide or hair of them.
Meanwhile, workers had completed laying the 24-inch casing
under the C and O railroad tracks
just east of Zeeland with the aid of a special boring machine. The casing will enclose a 16-inch water line that will be fed directly into the mains until construction of a new water tank next December.

Early this week, Contractors
Paas and Paas jumped farther south to work, and began laying the pipe "backward" from the mains at the corner of Main Ave.
and Wall St. to the tracks on M-21.

City workers will begin installation of the pumps as soon as they arrive and the job will take about three or four days. Officials had originally hoped that the new pumps would be in operation next week, but it may be two weeks yet
at the present rate.

Rain is still plaguing the pipe line crew and precious time is used pumping water out of the ditches. Last week, a worker was saved from serious injury in a cave-in caused by water seepage
in back of a ditch wall.

Strict water restrictions are still the rule. No sprinkling is allowed except for new seeding and gardens. Persons who need special permit have been allotted them by the City Hall.

Meanwhile, citizens are hoping that it won't be long before they can again sprinkle their lawns
when there is no rain.

Visit Through U.N. in New York City Is Good Start for Trip to Europe

The following article was written by Bruce Van Voorst, Holland's Community Ambassador now en route to Europe to spend the summer in Austria. It describes his visit through U.N. buildings in New York City.

By Bruce Van Voorst
Touring Europe as a Community Ambassador promises to provide the most extensive and complete opportunity to understand the people that can be afforded in the three short months.

The plan differs from most conventional travel plans in that we are to be placed in an Austrian family for several weeks. During this time we will live with the family and stick with them throughout the course of a normal day in their lives.

A Community Ambassador travels and is under the leadership of a non-profit organization called the "Experiment in International Living." This group maintains a headquarters in Putney, Va., and has developed an extensive program of international exchange living.

Our Austrian group of 10 embarked Wednesday with about 100 members, some 15 of whom are ambassadors. The others travel under a similar plan except they do not have the responsibility to their community that the ambassadors do. We will travel on the Holland American Lines steamship "Groote Beer" which will arrive in Rotterdam, the Netherlands, after a nine-day trip.

One interesting note is that the group of Hope College students traveling to Spain with Dr. Donald F. Brown of the Hope language department is on the same ship. We will separate in Rotterdam.

Tuesday was United Nations day for the ambassadors and the whole day was devoted to touring and studying the U.N.

A visit to the United Nations opened the day. Each member of the Security Council must maintain a full time mission in New York.

Thus the Big 5 along with six other nations maintain these special "embassies" here. The U. S. mission is on Park Ave. about 15 blocks from the U.N. building.

Here we were briefed on the background of the movement toward world government and given outlines of the successful undertakings the organization has completed.

Then we went to the U.N. building along 46th St. and the East River. From then on it was just one beautiful sight after another.

The site is a former slum area worth about $81 million which was donated by John D. Rockefeller Jr., to the U. N. for the location of permanent headquarters.

Now about $68 million worth of buildings have been erected, including the famed main building which has been compared to a pack of cards on end.

Actually, it is a beautiful structure and very advanced architecturally. Everything is either square, rectangular or a sweeping curve. There are practically no decorations. Interior colors are vivid.

There are regular tours of the building, but our special tour got us into some restricted areas. We got into the delegates lounge and even to the main floor of the General Assembly council room. The group, of course, was not in session.

In the general assembly room, a couple of us managed to sit in the president's chair. We also got a good look at the door the Russian delegates take when they stomp out.

The trusteeship council was meeting and we sat in for about an hour. In each of these halls every seat has ear phones and just by flipping a switch you can hear the speech being given in six languages. It's quite a novelty but really a fascinating thing.

The interpreters are so good they are only a couple of words behind the speaker. Imagine hearing one language while talking yourself in another. Recently they had 700 applications and only three persons were good enough in spite of the fact that all applicants were qualified translators.

The whole experience gives a boost to our hopes for the U.N.'s success. Actually, it has been far more successful than most Americans realize.

One joke they tell around the building is the true statement that the U.N. budget for 1952 was about $471 million. This, they point out, is only slightly less than New York City spent to clean its streets during the same period.

But yet we criticize when the successes aren't all as fast or as nice as we might like.

(The next letter will mark the beginning of the foreign part of our trip and will be date-lined Rotterdam.)

Hofman's auto clipped the right side of a car driven by Henry Decker, 69, of 219 Alpine Ave., Zeeland, causing an estimated $30 damage. Flint investigated the accident.

In another intersection accident Thursday night, cars driven by Ned J. Bergsma, 25, of 24 Cherry St., Zeeland, and Calvin Hannink, 17, of Hudsonville, collided on the corner of Central Ave. and Division St.

Damage to the front end of Bergsma's 1947 model auto was estimated at $150, while damage to the left door of Hannink's 1940 model was estimated at $50. Officer Ten Have investigated.

Rural School Census Gains

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—The rural school census checking has been completed in the County Education office. This tabulation confirms the "handwriting on the wall" that many of our rural schools face, greatly increased enrollments.

The 1952-53 school year found 6,024 children enrolled in the rural schools. The 514 eighth grade graduates is the smallest group of eighth grade pupils to be enrolled for some years to come. This past year the greatest enrollments were in grades kindergarten, first and fourth. The grades with the smallest enrollments this past year were the 7th and 8th. There were 603 transfers of pupils in the rural area during the past school year. There will be at least 5 additional teachers added in September to care for increase enrollments.

The census tabulation shows 75 districts with a gain in number, 36 with a loss, and 9 that remained the same. The total census is 13,962 or a gain of 610 over 1952. This was 7,344 boys and 6,618 girls. There were 6,850 in the pre-school group ranging in ages from birth through 4 years. This was a gain of 325 over 1952.

The census according to townships is:

Allendale, 521; Blendon, 725; Chester, 457; Crookery, 339; Georgetown, 1,794; Grand Haven, 566; Holland, 2,479; Jamestown, 608; Olive, 373; Park, 1,043; Polkton, 970; Port Sheldon, 176; Robinson, 459; Spring Lake, 1,633; Tallmadge, 683; Wright, 713; Zeeland, 523.

The county still has 18 vacancies in the teaching staff.

July 19-25 to Be Farm Safety Week

ALLEGAN (Special)—One out of every four farms in Allegan county is likely to be at the scene of a disabling accident during the next 12 months, says A. D. Morley, county agricultural agent.

Morley made this prediction in reminding rural people that Farm Safety Week is July 19-25. Although farmers in the county will be eliminating safety hazards on their farms during that week, he adds, safety must be a 365 day-a-year job in order to cut accidents down.

Not only are farm injuries bad in terms of pain and sometimes death—they're costly, declares the agent.

Reports from David G. Steinicke, farm safety specialist at Michigan State College, points out that the average cost of a farm accident involving a fall is nearly $50. And the average fall costs the farmer 24 days lost from farm work. On the other hand, the average farm machine accident costs $60 in medical expenses and 20 days lost from work.

One of the biggest sources of farm accidents, says the safety specialist, is the farm tractor. He cautions farmers to keep shield in place—especially around the power take-off and the machine to which it is attached. He also advises to know the correct hookup to avoid turning over the tractor with a heavy load.

Main Auto Stays In Second Place By Beating Hulst

City League softball officially closed its first half Thursday night as Main Auto moved to within a half-game of first place by nailing fourth-place Hulst Brothers, 8-2.

In the other game, Barber Fords trounced the league tail-enders, North Holland, by an 11-3 count.

The games were anti-climatic. Baraman's Service provided the big thrill Wednesday evening by clipping the Vets, 4-2. Although Baraman now leads the league by one-half game, the make-up of a previously postponed tilt could have a lot of bearing on the final standings.

Hulst Brothers will play Baraman in a game tentatively scheduled for July 11. If Hulst should win, the race would end in a two-way tie with Main Auto getting a share of the pie with Baraman.

Getting back to Thursday night's games, Main Auto's Jason Ebels set down Hulst on six hits while his mates were spraying 13 safeties to all corners of Van Tongeren Field off Reg Lamar and his successor, Mel Zoerhoff.

Only when Bud Hulst slammed out a home run in the sixth with Bern Greiving on board were the losers able to score. They collected three safeties in that inning for the only time they nicked Ebels for more than one in an inning. Those nits came in the second, third, and fourth.

Meanwhile, Main Auto was slow in starting, but Howie Glupker's triple followed by Lamar's error gave the Autos their first tally in the fourth. In the fifth, the Autos could only score once on four hits as the Hulst defense tightened up to hold the game under control.

Main Auto really teed off in the sixth. Ebels, Ted Vanden Berg, and Mel Koenes hammered circuit clouts off Lamar for four runs and Main Auto had a 6-0 bulge that was there to stay. Two hits, an infield out, and Norm Jang's double gave the Autos their last two counters in the seventh.

Norm Boeve allowed North Holland 11 hits for Barber, but spaced them evenly enough to win. His teammates found the slants of Bern Ebels and Don Berkompas good for 15 safe blows.

Dave Kempker led the Fords with four consecutive hits, while Ken Bauman, Don Piersma, and Chet Piersma chipped in two apiece.

Four hits gave Barber two runs in the first, and the Fords added single markers in the second and third. North Holland picked up a run in the second, but was stymied until the fifth when two hits produced the final pair for the losers.

Barber went to work in the third to get three runs on three hits and another trio of safeties produced four runs in the fifth to end scoring for the game.

City League teams will take a 10-day rest until the second half opens with a new set of games Monday, July 13.

The standings:

| | W | L | Pct. |
|-----------------|----|----|------|
| Baraman Service | 10 | 4 | .769 |
| Main Auto | 10 | 3 | .714 |
| Vets | 9 | 5 | .643 |
| Hulst Brothers | 8 | 5 | .615 |
| North End | 7 | 6 | .538 |
| Fords | 7 | 6 | .462 |
| Moose | 2 | 12 | .143 |
| North Holland | 1 | 13 | .071 |

The Grand Haven Gideon camp has been particularly faithful in conducting farewell services for Ottawa county draftees each month. The group conducts brief services and presents each draftee with a Testament. Left to right are Kenneth Ruiter, F. C. Bolt, John J. Newman, William Vliegen, John C. Verseput and Tom Ruiter. (Sentinel photo)

Gideons Conduct Sendoff For Draftees of County

GRAND HAVEN, (Special) — Every month—sometimes oftener than once a month—there's a drama in Grand Haven. Another group leaves for induction into the armed forces.

The scene is always the same—only the faces are different. Whether the number be 10 or 40, it follows the same pattern. Young men dressed in casual clothing, each one toting a small overnight bag, are almost always accompanied by a few relatives and often by the girl friends.

Mothers and girl friends invariably try to appear brave, but are never far away from tears, shed or unshed.

As the hour nears, people start gathering in Grand Haven Armory, talking quietly usually in small groups. Then a draft board member calls for the draftees, who are checked in at a table by Mrs. Vincent Morford, draft office clerk, and her assistant.

Then the Gideons conduct a brief farewell service. Particularly faithful through many months have been Tom Ruiter, Grand Haven food merchant, and F. C. Bolt, banker. They usually ask an area minister to speak a few words and give a prayer. Then they distribute Gideon Testaments, and everyone sings "America," usually with accordion accompaniment. Draftees then pose for newspaper pictures, the chartered bus arrives and the young men are off to experience a new chapter in their lives.

The Grand Haven Gideon camp was organized in 1944, mainly through the efforts of the late Jacob Braak of Spring Lake whose efforts boosted membership to 61. The camp serves the north half of Ottawa county; the Holland camp takes care of the south half.

During World War II, Gideons started serving the servicemen. Other services include supplying hotels, motels, public and professional offices, hospitals, nursing homes, schools with Testaments. More than $1,000 a year is collected locally for the work.

First officers were Jacob Braak, William Vining, Edward Roberts, Sabe Nienhouse, Ben Zenderink, Tom Ruiter and F. C. Bolt. Present officers are Gerrit Swiftney, president; William Vining, vice president; John Verseput, secretary; Russell P. Vickers, treasurer; R. J. Kruijenga, chaplain; Tom Ruiter, Bible chairman; F. C. Bolt, church assignments.

The camp meets the third Monday of each month in various churches in the community.

Two Fined on Larceny Charge Involving Tent

GRAND HAVEN, (Special) — Marvin Bouwkamp, 19, Coopersville, and John C. Kragt, 21, route 1, Coopersville, each paid $25 fine and $3.90 costs upon arraignment Sunday night before Justice Frederick J. Workman on a charge of simple larceny. They were arraigned after waiving their constitutional rights.

The pair was arrested Sunday after Harold Meindersma recognized a tent at Grand Haven State Park Saturday as one which had been taken from a field on his Coopersville farm nearly two years ago. He had reported the original larceny to state police July 21, 1951.

After spotting the tent on July 4, Meindersma reported to officers who arrested Bouwkamp at the state park and Kragt at his home. The tent space permit had been made out to Bouwkamp.

Trailers, Camps Jam State Park

Holland State Park chalked up a new record during the July 4th holiday week-end as 264 camps were set up Friday night.

Thousands of visitors, some bringing tents, others in trailers and still more arriving for a day's outing began streaming into the park early Friday. By Friday night Park Manager Clare Board said the extra space allotted to handle the overflow of trailers and camps was used up.

Rangers were forced to turn away dozens of trailers at the park entrance because "there just wasn't anyplace to put them," Board said.

Long lines formed Saturday and Sunday to use the picnic tables and stoves. "Everything received more than capacity use," Board said, "and the two-day holiday went off without incident except for the usual minor bumper-to-bumper collisions and first aid treatment for cuts."

Saturday's crowd numbered 24,000 and 18,000 visitors were counted on Sunday.

Capacity Crowds At July 4 Event

The largest crowds in the seven-year-old history of Community Fourth of July celebrations at Legion Memorial Park gathered there Saturday evening for a light program of entertainment, climaxed by a lush display of fireworks, mostly aerial pieces which delighted persons in long lines of parked cars on country roads as much as the crowds lining the hills at Legion Club.

So great were the crowds that efficient deputies handling parking were forced to send many cars away after every available space was utilized for parking. After the fireworks, deputies kept long lines of cars moving steadily and kept traffic tie-ups at a minimum.

Orrie Sluiter, clerk of Federal Court in Grand Rapids, spoke on the significance of Fourth of July and credited the various activities throughout the years which have made independence meaningful in the United States. He called for moral and spiritual strength in American life and attached great significance to the religious heritage.

Exceptionally well received were two groups of selections by the Hollandaires, Holland's only lady barbershop quartet, who were called back for a third encore. In the quartet are Mary Anne Miller, Betty Comport, Phyllis Haringsma and Wilma Hill. All are married and all have young children. The quartet started out as a trio several years ago. The quartet has been singing for the last year or two.

George Lumsden served as master of ceremonies and Wendell A. Miles introduced the speaker.

The American Legion plans these community celebrations in an effort to keep local persons at home on a busy holiday and lessen traffic on busy highways.

Another highlight of the evening was the introduction of two of the church missionaries who were able to attend the event. Mrs. Jay Kapenga of Arabia and Miss Marie Van Vuren from New Mexico were introduced by Harold Mulder and Mrs. Betty Schaap. The missionaries spoke briefly and gave greetings from their fields.

A program of sports was planned for all by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dykhuys and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Norman Dykhuys. The Rev. Rinker concluded the evening program with brief remarks and the entire group sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Zeeland Chix Take Double Loss From South Haven Team

ZEELAND, (Special) — Zeeland's Chix took it on the chin twice Saturday as the South Haven Merchants, cellar-dwellers in the Southwestern Michigan Baseball league, swept the home-and-home twin bill, 5-3 and 9-1.

The usually potent Zeeland bats were strangely silent as the Chix were held to seven hits in the morning affair at Zeeland and were limited to only five in South Haven.

Southpaw Norm Kamper started the first game for the Chix and gave up nine hits and all five runs before relief by Marv Warner in the seventh. Warner blanked the Merchants the rest of the way.

A double and two singles gave the Merchants two runs in the third and they added another in the fourth. Another trio of hits produced two more runs in the sixth.

A walk and singles by Kelly Roelofs and Ted Boeve gave the Chix their first tally in the fifth while three hits posted the second run in the eighth. Howie De Jonge knocked in the final tally in the ninth.

Warner's morning performance gave him a starting berth on the mound at South Haven, but the change in surroundings seemed to harm his effectiveness.

The Merchants teed off for four hits and three runs in the first inning, and by the time Warner was yanked in the fifth, they showed 10 hits and five runs. They added seven more hits and four more runs off Gene Talsma to total a potent 17 hits.

Meanwhile, the Chix were having trouble getting even a few singles, and their only run came in the sixth when De Jonge came home on a long fly. Never did Zeeland get more than one hit in an inning.

Neither of the games counted in league standings and the Chix still are tied for first with the Grand Rapids Black Sox.

Grand Haven Asks To Delay Report

LANSDING — Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Grand Haven officials Friday requested the U. S. Corps of Engineers to hold up a report recommending against immediate improvement of harbor facilities at Grand Haven.

Williams acted after Col. George Kumpe, U. S. district engineer, recommended against Grand Haven harbor improvements until industrial firms are prepared to utilize docks and terminal facilities before federal funds are allotted to dredging and other improvement operations.

Grand Haven Mayor Claude Ver Duin and Chamber of Commerce Secretary P. H. Mordick met with Kumpe Thursday in the governor's office.

Williams said agreement was reached at the meeting that the report would be delayed in transmission to Congress in order to permit state and local authorities to submit additional information affecting the harbor improvement project.

Uncles of the bride, the Rev. Lawrence Veltkamp and the Rev. John T. Holwerda, performed the double ring ceremony in Holland Heights Christian Reformed Church. Candelabra, palms, ferns and pink peonies with white stock were used as a background for the rites. The altar was decorated with single pink peonies and ferns, white bows marked the pews and candles were placed in the windows.

Miss Allene Huizenga, organist, played traditional music for the rites and the Rev. Lawrence Veltkamp sang "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a gown of white chintilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The neckline featured a yoke of scalloped chintilly lace, and the long sleeves were pointed over the wrists. The fitted bodice tapered to a tiny dip waistline ending in a peplum pointing down the back of the skirt. The skirt extended into a cathedral-length train. Her silk illusion veil was held by a crown of matching lace with seed pearl trim. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid and streamers.

Dutchmen Club Grand Haven for 19 Hits, 21 Runs

Holland's Flying Dutchmen finally tuned their hitting eye as they swamped the Grand Haven Athletics 21-10 in a wild scoring loosely-played free-for-all at Riverview Park Monday night. The Dutchmen combed four visiting pitchers for 19 hits, and the Athletics did some fence-rattling of their own, with 12 hits off Lou Humbert and his fifth-inning relief, Claire Van Liere.

The game was even at one apiece for two innings until the Dutchmen took charge with an eight-run outburst in the third. Grand Haven drove Humbert to the showers with a cluster of six in the fifth but by then Holland was well ahead.

The Dutchmen collected their first run in the second inning on a walk, one of Grand Haven's eight errors, and three fielders' choices. For all practical purposes they wrapped up the decision with their eight-run third, sending 11 men to the plate and utilizing three drives to center field, three walks, and some sloppy defensive work. They added two more in the next inning on a single, double, and triple, and matched it in the fifth on two singles and a triple. A singleton in the sixth on two hits was followed by a strong finish which collected seven runs in the last two innings. A double, two singles, and further field lapses sent four runs across in the seventh, before four singles and Tony Wentzel's four-bagger ended the scoring.

Grand Haven pulled even momentarily with their two hits and a walk for one run in the second. They failed to match the host's eight runs in the next inning, but counted three runs on a long triple in the fourth and combined a triple, double, and two singles for the six runs that finished Humbert, and ended their scoring for the evening.

Humbert and Van Liere walked six and fanned nine. Grand Haven pitching was touched for six walks and struck out four.

Van Liere with four for six and Elmer Van Wieren with four for seven, one a triple, led the winners. Terry Burns collected three hits, and Frank Wlodarczyk, Morrie Witteveen, and Lou Humbert chipped in two apiece. Wentzel's homer and Bob Van Dyke's double closed out the attack.

Westerhof led the losers with a single, double and triple. Van Schelven, Baldus, and McPhee had two each, and Yedeneck, Secory and Meyer had one apiece.

State Restrained In Road Case With Rendering Works

Grand Rapids Judge Signs Temporary Injunction Monday

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—A temporary injunction was signed Monday afternoon restraining State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler and associates from interfering in any way with the operations of the Holland Rendering Works which lies in the right-of-way of the new US-31 relocation just east of Holland.

The temporary injunction was signed by Judge William B. Brown of Grand Rapids. The bill of complaint was submitted by an attorney retained by Albert P. Kleis and others who own and operate the rendering plant.

The suit asked that the defendant and his officers be temporarily restrained from removing plaintiffs from the premises or interfering with the use and occupation of the plant pending a suit now in Circuit Court, or until further order of the court. The suit also asked that the injunction be permanently enjoined.

The bill of complaint also claims that on July 2, plaintiffs received by registered mail a letter signed by Victor H. Meier, assistant attorney general in charge of condemnation proceedings, directing plaintiffs to cease operations and remove personal property within 48 hours from date of letter.

The complaint also said that plaintiff believes the highway department intends to take physical steps to enter the premises, barricade roads, fill water ponds, cut off electric power and by other means make it physically impossible for the plaintiffs to continue their business.

Plaintiffs also pointed out that up to the present time, they have not been paid the $80,220.10 awarded them by three commissioners, George D. Branstetter, Frank M. Beaubien and George Swart, who had been appointed by Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith. The latter currently has under consideration a request from state officials asking that the three commissioners declare a new figure within the bounds considered reasonable by the state department, or have the judge appoint new commissioners and stage another hearing.

Plaintiffs further said that without payment of the amount, they have not been given reasonable opportunity to procure a location elsewhere through the use of those funds.

Plaintiffs listed in the suit are Albert P. Kleis and his wife, Bertha; Russell Kleis and his wife, Alice M.; John F. Kleis and his wife, Gertrude; Albert Kleis, Jr., and his wife, Myrtle; and Albert P. Kleis, Russell Kleis, John F. Kleis and Albert Kleis, Jr., co-partners operating under the firm name and style of Holland Rendering Works.

Jack Adams

Ted Lindsay

Adams, Lindsay To Appear Here

Jack Adams, general manager of the Detroit Red Wing Hockey team, and Ted Lindsay, captain of the Red Wings, will make a personal appearance in Holland Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. before Henry Walters Post No. 2144 of the local VFW.

Included in the program are film highlights of the 1953 Detroit Red Wing Stanley Cup playoff games, plus interesting sidelights by each of the two personalities. A round-table discussion will be held following the presentation. Don Japenga is in charge of arrangements for the special sports program.

Appearance of the two in Holland is part of a state-wide tour designed to enlighten sport enthusiasts concerning the world's fastest game, ice hockey.

Lindsay, who was named as an All-Star in four of the past five seasons, has chalked up a record as the highest scoring Red Wing in history. The fiery wing was named captain this past year and has been with the Wings for the past nine seasons, making the long jump directly from amateur hockey to the Red Wings.

Manager Adams, who is widely termed "Mr. Hockey," is probably the best known figure in professional hockey today. He has an outstanding record of 26 years with the Wings and prior to that a 10 year record as a player with Toronto. He is noted for developing the most extensive farm system in hockey.

Police Tighten Traffic Patrol

Traffic control in Holland City has been tightened with the recent addition of an extra police officer whose duties specifically deal with patrolling busy streets.

City Manager Harold C. McClintock said the duties of the officers on traffic control are not to issue lots of tickets but to establish more effective control over vehicular traffic and thus reduce the number of accidents.

"Although it is too early to tell the effectiveness of the increased patrol, only four minor accidents were reported in Holland during the Fourth of July week-end despite the large amount of traffic moving through the city," McClintock said.

From Friday night, July 3 through Sunday night, July 5 a total of 26 tickets were issued by police. A breakdown shows 20 persons were issued tickets for speeding, seven of which were warnings, during the two day period.

Two were given summonses for lane violations, one for stop street, one for interfering with through traffic, one for failure to yield right of way and one for an improper turn.

During the month of June 114 persons were stopped for speeding violations. Seventy-three were ordered to appear in court and 41 were given warning tickets.

McClintock said the increased patrol would continue indefinitely and daily reports are being made by the police department on the number of violations and type. "With this information we can take further corrective measures if necessary," he said.

League Leaders Match Victories In Legion Play

The pace-setters in the Junior American Legion baseball league both turned in victories at Riverview Park Tuesday night, Holland Hitch with a 15-3 rout of First National, and H. E. Morse with a forfeit victory, 7-0, over Hilltop, who showed up with only eight players. The winners now lead the league with perfect four-win records.

Hitch feasted on First National pitching for 12 hits, and benefited from eight National errors, while Ron Tornovich was limiting the losers to three hits.

Hitch started with four tainted runs on one hit in the first innings, added one each in the second and third on one and two hits respectively, and sashed in for five more on a double and single and some generosity from First National. They wasted a hit in the fifth, the only time that happened, and closed with four runs on five singles.

First National counted runs in the second and sixth, each on one hit, and scored one in the fifth when Hilltop couldn't find the handle.

Jeroed Boeve, Bob Van Dyke, Ron Van Dyke and Sheridan Shaffer each had two hits. Bill Sandahl, Ron De Vree, Dick Plagenhoef, and Ron Tornovich each collected one. Hill, Plagenhoef and Harbin split the losers' safeties.

Tornovich walked four and fanned seven, while his mound opponents combined for four walks and two strikeouts.

The Morse-Hilltop game was washed out after five innings after a player had been recruited from the stands to fill out Hilltop's roster. The affair goes into the books as a forfeit, but it was played for practice, and Morse wound up on the long end of an 11-5 count.

Morse scored three in the first on one hit, matched a hit and a run for the second, and paired four hits, including Ron Boeve's homer, for four runs in the fourth. Hilltop also collected four runs on four hits in the fourth, for their only scoring.

Rocky-LaStarza Fight 'Probable'

Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano probably will fight Roland LaStarza at Yankee Stadium in New York City Sept. 24, according to the champion's trainer Charley Goldman.

The Sentinel received a communication from Charley Tuesday in which he said the champ "has been roaming around Canada the past few weeks, but will be home this week."

Charley adds, "It's too bad the promoters won't let us train too far away from New York or we would be back in Holland again. There is no place where we would rather be than Holland."

Goldman added a regards to the gang.
